LESSON OVERVIEW

WANTED—A “JUST RIGHT” GOVERNMENT

GOAL
Students will learn how the U.S. Constitution came to exist. Students discover what tensions and differences of opinion existed among early American states and citizens. Students find out about the Articles of Confederation and why that first “constitution” didn’t work, and how compromise led to the Constitution.

TIME
One class period

NUTSHELL
Use either our ready-to-go Power Point presentation or overhead transparency masters to teach how the Constitution came to exist. You’ll guide students through a notetaking worksheet that includes cloze activities and active participation Mini Quizzes that let you check for understanding throughout the lesson. When you’re done, students can work on a crossword puzzle that reinforces ideas from the lesson.

CONCEPTS
Purpose and powers of government; Declaration of Independence; Articles of Confederation; New Jersey and Virginia Plans; purposes, structure and content of the Constitution; branches of government

OBJECTIVES
The student will use a guided notetaking worksheet to...
- Understand the purposes of government.
- Evaluate the benefits and drawbacks of the Articles of Confederation
- Identify differences among early American states
- Compare the Articles of Confederation with the Constitution
- Compare the Virginia Plan with the New Jersey plan
- Outline the structure of the Constitution

PAGEPLAN Wanted—A “Just Right” Government

Time: One class period

- ANTICIPATE with a quick poll of the class. Ask students, “Imagine we were going to have a class ice cream party and we could only have one kind of ice cream. How many people would want chocolate? Strawberry? Rocky Road?” After the poll, ask students whether they think it would be possible to get everyone to agree. What about if the class could have two flavors? Three? Would it be possible to at least satisfy everyone, even if they don’t get their very favorite flavor? Tell students they are going to learn how the U.S. government was created, and that a lot of the process had to do with getting people to agree on things.

- DISTRIBUTE one “Wanted—A ‘Just Right’ Government” notetaking packet to each student.

OPTION A: INTERACTIVE POWER POINT PRESENTATION

- WORK THROUGH Power Point presentation while following the Presentation Guide. Students will get the information for the notetaking worksheet in different ways throughout the presentation:
  - A few parts use the cloze method
  - In some sections, you will read/explain while students fill in blanks
  - Sometimes a quote will appear and students will fill in blanks from the quote
  - Mini Quizzes throughout the presentation let you check for understanding and get the whole class participating.

- CLOSE by having students complete the crossword puzzle on page 4 of the packet.

OPTION B: INTERACTIVE LESSON WITH OVERHEAD TRANSPARENCIES

- WORK THROUGH the notetaking worksheet using the information and activities on the overhead transparencies where appropriate. Keep the transparency covered with a sheet of paper and uncover the parts you need as you go along. Students will get the information for the notetaking worksheet in different ways throughout the presentation:
  - A few parts use the cloze method
  - In some sections, you will read/explain while students fill in blanks
  - Sometimes students will fill in blanks by looking at a quote on the transparency
  - Mini Quizzes throughout the transparencies let you check for understanding and get the whole class participating.

- CLOSE by having students complete the crossword puzzle on page 4 of the packet.
